"His voice is stunning. We booked him for the church and lots of our guests started to cry only because of his voice. He then sang songs outside the church for our champagne reception, which was lovely. Everyone (especially the women) adored him and wanted to book him for personal gigs. Unfortunately, he was already booked for the evening so we couldn't have him for the actual reception, which was a shame because he would have done an amazing job there too. It was a pleasure and an honour!"

Mrs Michele Robey

His lighting and monogram is brilliant for making the wow factor. All our guests raved about the entertainment. Alex went over the call of duty and was simply perfect !!!"

Mrs Dawn Townson

"Alex was amazing, he put together all our song choices for our wedding day and played or sang them all. We were entertained from start to finish with a top class service. His communication / website was brilliant in the run up to the wedding and took any stress concern about entertainment we may have had away. He spent so much time understanding us and our wedding to then be able to create a bespoke day for us. Our guests are still commenting now it was the best wedding ever been too - and that was mainly due to the amount of dancing through our wedding breakfast! just amazing"

"We really liked his website and that we could listen to his voice. Firstly, we had a Skype conversation with him because we live in Germany and couldn't meet up with him in person. He was very easy going, made a lot of great suggestions and was always available for questions and requests. He was always very very quick to reply, which we much appreciated since we had a lot of trouble with other suppliers and even our wedding planner. If all the suppliers had been like Alex, we would have had a lot less to worry about. We even got a personalised CD with all the songs we had chosen for our special day."

Mrs Joanna Cousins

"He is a great singer and very current with todays music scene - he sings and looks like a popstar. A lot of the other acoustic singers available did not embrace the current acoustic music style that is dominating the charts so Alex has the advantage to other suppliers here. The access online to be able to listen to what he sounds like prior to booking is also a deciding factor as you get a feel for what you can expect him to be like at your function. He also is reasonably priced and adds a great lighting package alongside being a singer and dj. There is also many great reviews from previous bookings which help you feel confident you are booking the right person. Alex also responds to your emails or calls very quickly and nothing is too much trouble."
